RE: Support For The Alamo Master Plan Project

Dear Master Plan Team:

The Texas Independence Trail Region and its Board of Directors support The Alamo Master Plan Project. This project will provide Texans and the world with a more in-depth and accurate account of the events which happened on this hallowed ground, what this event and place has meant for Texas, as well as for the western expansion of the United States.

The Alamo Master Plan would serve to greatly enhance the potential for learning and discovery, but, perhaps more importantly, put protective measures in place to preserve this historical battleground and add a world-class museum for future generations. We commend the commitment to preservation that has been demonstrated in the past in honoring those who gave the ultimate sacrifice for Texas' struggle for independence. We look forward to the cross promotion of our other partners which have parts of the story to tell and serve as great advocates in this endeavor.

The Texas Independence Trail Region promotes cultural and heritage tourism in 28 southeastern Texas counties as part of the Texas Historical Commission's Texas Heritage Trails Program. Heritage tourism is an incredible economic driver for San Antonio and the entire Texas Independence Trail Region and State of Texas.

We applaud these continuing efforts in this master plan, for there is no historical site in the State of Texas which emulates the spirit of Texas more than the Alamo.
